

The background of the entire poster is an impressionistic painting of a rocky coastline. The scene depicts waves crashing against dark, jagged rocks. The water is rendered with a mix of white, grey, and blue tones, suggesting movement and foam. The rocks are in shades of brown, grey, and black. The sky and distant land are painted with soft, blended colors of yellow, green, and blue, creating a hazy, atmospheric effect. The overall style is reminiscent of 19th-century Impressionist art.
